

Today, we proudly announce for the first time,
The College Radio Grant Program

As a charity, our ultimate goal is to help those stations in financial need to have the opportunity to stay on the air for many years to come. Stations who need financial assistance for studio upgrades or repairs, to have a promotional budget, help pay legal and licensing fees, or any other mission critical need, can apply for one of five grants. The deadline to apply for this first round of grants is October 24.

You can apply here or click to find out more information.

On College Radio Day this November 4, 2016, we will announce the recipients of four $500 grants, and one $1000 grant. There is no cost, no hidden barriers.

If you are registered to participate in College Radio Day, your station is eligible for a grant. It's that simple.

Why do we ask that you register? Because when all college radio stations unite, we can show the listening audience that they have a choice for free, exciting, daring programming.

When we unite, more people listen, and we break out more bands to the masses. When we come together for just one day, people pay attention. Without you, we are not the same.

Join us November 4th for College Radio Day 2016, and help us to ignite the soul of college radio nationwide!

Rob Quicke - The College Radio Foundation
www.collegeradio.org"